

Spotlight on Danielle Douglas WoHeLo Recipient 2007

Danielle graduated from Franklin Pierce High School in 2006. She now attends Washington State University in Pullman, with a major in Psychology and a minor in Business. She has continued her involvement in numerous activities; she was an executive member of her residence hall government, a council member for the Residence Hall Association, and an intramural flag football player. Recently, she was voted into RHA as the Director of Programming, where she will serve as the programmer for the 17 total residence halls on the WSU campus. Danielle chose to advocate on behalf of Camp Fire, School Involvement, and Church Association.

Through Camp Fire, Danielle chose to advocate by leading a committee for the annual Council Fire. She taught members of Teens in Action about the Yellow Ribbon Awareness and served at various events, including Festival of Trees and Day Camp. To speak out for Camp Fire, Danielle created and distributed flyers advertising the club program.

Danielle also took advantage of opportunities to get involved in school. She was a Cardinal Crew Leader, a counselor at Camp 4 Star, and a Football Statistician. To give service back to local schools, Danielle helped collect school supplies for the FISH Food Bank and was an advocate for new membership on the high school's Dance Team.

As a member of the Summit United Methodist Church Youth Group, Danielle organized a Veteran's Day Luncheon. She taught classes during Vacation Bible School and served at the Spring Fling, Easter Egg Hunt, and Youth Fellowship. To speak out on behalf of her church, Danielle made flyers for local daycares to advertise for an Easter Egg Hunt.

Danielle has continued the same spirit of service through involvement. On top of her new commitments at WSU, she has completed nearly 75 hours of volunteer service in Pullman. She enjoys being involved and watching the community benefit from her services.
